HUNT WOMAN HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER TODAY

Unidentified Woman Hit Dixon Child Late Wednesday P. M.

Cecilia Giese, seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Louise Giese, 207 West Everett street, was critically injured a short distance from her home shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when she was struck and knocked down by an east-bound car driven by an unidentified woman, the car partly passing over her body, crushing the right leg below the knee and lacerating and bruising the left arm. Witnesses to the accident dragged the injured girl from beneath the car, carrying her to the boulevard, and later removing her to the hospital.

The woman stopped her car and remained at the scene for a time. Oscar Steder, one of the witnesses to the accident and one of the first to reach the scene, talked with the woman and said she inquired the direction to the police station, which he furnished. She failed to go to the city hall, however, and a wide search was instituted for her shortly afterward. Steder obtained the license numbers on the car which he furnished the police, and this information directed the investigation to Rock Island.

The license numbers, it was reported, were issued to a school teacher of that city, but reports later in the evening from Rock Island police indicated that the woman was not at home.

Was Not Excited

The accident happened directly in front of the Peter Steder residence, 240 West Everett street, as the girl started to cross the street from the south to the north side. Oscar Steder stated this morning that the car, a new machine, was traveling east, with the woman the sole occupant. She was reported to have stated after the accident, that she was not traveling at a high rate of speed, then inquired of Steder the direction to the police station. The young man added that the woman did not appear excited. The license numbers furnished police by Steder were reported to have been issued for another make of car, owned by a Rock Island school teacher.

Reports from the hospital today indicated that the girl was resting quite comfortably.

PIQUETT GIVEN HEAVY PENALTY

Federal Judge Goes Limit in Sentencing Attorneys for Hoops

Chicago, June 27 —(AP)— The heaviest penalty possible under the law—a sentence of two years in prison and a fine of $10,000—was imposed today upon Attorney Louis P. Piquett, convicted Tuesday of harboring the late Homer Van Meter, Dillinger gangster.

Piquett's punishment was fixed by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan after overruling a motion by the defense attorneys for a new trial. Piquett, once a city prosecutor, was charged by the federal government with arranging a "hideout" for Van Meter, and Van Meter's chief, the late John Dillinger, in the summer of 1934, when they were the two most wanted criminals in the country.

The lawyer, branded a "master criminal" by the prosecutors, also arranged, according to the government's evidence, for "face lifting" operations with which Dillinger and Van Meter sought to disguise themselves. The same two surgeons, Drs. Wilhelm Loeser and Harold B. Cassidy, testified that they also operated on the gangster's finger tips in an attempt to prevent future fingerprint identification.

Piquett must go to Leavenworth penitentiary, by the judge's decree, but he was permitted his liberty until July 5, under bond of $12,500. The stocky, white haired lawyer, a veteran of the Chicago courts who has defended many an accused criminal, took the sentence calmly without comment.

Palmer's Code Again Fails to Get Votes

Springfield, Ill., June 27—(AP)— The Palmer reclassification of Illinois insurance laws again failed in the Senate yesterday. Consideration was postponed for the second time while the incomplete roll call showed 16 to 14 for the bill sponsored by Ernest Palmer, director of insurance.

No debate preceded the vote. The code, passed by the House and amended in the Senate, has encountered strong opposition, endangering its prospects for passage before the session ends this week.

HORNER THROWS HAT IN RING AT PARTY BANQUET

And Speaker Devine Envisions Him Routing Republicans in '36

Springfield, Ill., June 27—(AP)— Democratic legislators have been informed by Governor Horner that he intends to be a candidate to succeed himself next year.

The Governor made known his intentions last night at a banquet staged by Democratic House members as a prelude to the adjournment of the General Assembly.

His declaration, made in the presence of Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, constituted the first public statement on the subject by him although he has privately informed party leaders and others that he intended to be a candidate.

In recent weeks there has been some speculation on the attitude of the Chicago Democratic organization, as represented by Mayor Kelly, toward the Governor's ambitions to again be a candidate.

Devine Predicts 'Rout'

The mayor, so far as could be determined, did not commit himself last night on the governor's declaration but Horner's political associates united in declaring that they anticipate no differences between the two as the result of conflicting opinions on pending legislation.

The governor's announcement was followed by a prediction from Speaker John P. Devine that in the next election the party would "rout" the Republicans in the same manner "as the Democratic House majority has routed the Republican minority."

"I can't see any signs of the Democratic party slipping," the Speaker declared, "except in the Republican press." He pointed to the vote by which Mayor Kelly was elected and the "total flop of the grass roots convention" in making his prediction.

The Speaker and Mrs. Devine were presented with a silver service by the House members.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and at 2:30 from the First Methodist church, the pastor, Dr. Gilbert Stensell officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood. The popular young internist, who had recently completed his medical course, passed away yesterday morning at the Cleveland hospital where he was serving on the staff. He is survived by his parents, a sister, Miss Helen at home, and the brother Richard of Chicago. The complete obituary will be published later.

Stress Search for Lost Illinoisans

Santa Fe, N. M., June 27—(AP)— Gov. Clyde Tingley declared today he would press the search for four missing Illinois tourists "until the bodies are found or we are convinced they are not in New Mexico."

Officers here stressed the search for the bodies, or other evidence, as the final solution of the case despite the holding for investigation of a man at Del Rio, Texas.

The tourists, Mr. and Mrs. George Lorius of East St. Louis, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer of DuQuoin, Ill., have not been reported seen since May 22.

The man held in Del Rio gave his name as Bob Lowry, R. H. Colvin, apartment of justice agent at El Paso, was inquiring into his recent activities.

Fate of Rockyford Bridge East of Amboy Will Be Determined By Supervisors

State Plans Provide Cherchez la Femme Too Costly Structure for Funds

A special meeting of the board of supervisors has been called for 10 A. M. Friday for the purpose of considering the expenditure of a sum of $2,607.08 which represents 15-D refund money from the state to Lee county. By the adoption of a resolution, the board voted this sum to be expended on the rebuilding of the bridge over Green river west of Amboy, known as the Rockyford bridge and the board then appropriated an additional sum which was at the time believed to be sufficient to provide for the construction project.

At a meeting of the road and bridge committee of the county board at the court house yesterday, three bids were received on the proposed bridge construction, the lowest of which was submitted by R. R. Beard of LaMoille in the amount of $11,798.62. This was approximately $2,000 more than the sum appropriated by the board for the bridge.

Plans Were Changed.

The original inspection report of County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake to the state department of public works and buildings at Springfield, recommended the construction of a double span bridge, each span being 45 feet in length. The plans and specifications drawn at Springfield, called for two 50 foot spans, which increased materially the cost of the structure. Because of the increased cost over the original estimate, the road and bridge committee declined to award a contract until after the entire board has acted upon the proposal.

The state plans, it was said today, provide for a wider floor than is provided on some of the bridge structures now in use on state highways, and the plans generally provide for an ornamental structure, which members of the committee feel is not required in this particular location, due to the small amount of traffic over the bridge.

May Close Up Road.

Superintendent Leake yesterday informed the committee that unless some action was taken either to repair the Rockyford bridge or construct a new structure, that he would have to close the road. The board at the special meeting will decide whether the refund money will remain in the account to be used on the Rockyford structure or be transferred to use on another bridge.

The county superintendent today estimated that the bridge system in Lee county was sadly in need of reconstruction, and that the sum of $200,000 would not be sufficient to provide for this work. Many of the bridges over Green river, he added, were constructed years ago for horse and buggy traffic and are not adequate to withstand the present heavy motor travel.

SCHOOL FUND OF $13,000,000 ANNUALLY PLANNED

Democratic Leaders in Agreement Over Increased Allotment

Springfield, Ill., June 27—(AP)— The state school distributive fund appropriation is to be $13,000,000 annually. Democratic leaders today were pledged to the increase, amounting to $5,000,000 for the biennium, under a compromise agreement being rushed through the legislature without a day to spare before final adjournment.

Belief that no further trouble would be encountered on the school issue at this session was expressed by legislative spokesmen as both houses, with calendars shortened by wholesale dropping of bills, plunged into the last half-week.

The relief commission extension and University of Illinois appropriation issues were still facing fights in the house, however.

May Continue Fight.

Rep. L. M. Green of Rockford said the Republican leadership had not agreed to the program announced by Chairman James P. Boyle of the house appropriations committee and that a fight would be made for other school financing legislation.

In return for the increased state aid to public school districts, some Republican representatives agreed that no effort would be made to pass a group of bills, asking more than $12,000,000 for educational purposes.

These claims were: $7,000,000 claimed distributive fund arrears during the present biennium; $2,775,231.57, alleged overpaid Cook county from 1931 to 1933 in distributive fund allotments, and $2,384,256, asked by the Chicago school board for education of crippled, deaf and dumb children.

School districts now get $10,500,000 yearly from the distributive fund. They asked for $30,000,000 when the session opened, and will have opportunity to present further claims when the expected special session is called in the fall.

Suit Is Filed.

An injunction suit has been filed to force payment of the $2,775,231.57 waived in the house agreement.

Hope that sine die adjournment could be taken by Saturday night was expressed. The senate had approximately 125 house bills on which to work during the interval before the July 1 deadline for the passage of proposed laws. As usual, the jam was greater in the house, where several hundred bills that have passed the senate were in a position to be killed in the rush or slipped through in the confusion.

TO TELL WORLD ABOUT BEAUTY OF ROCK RIVER

Preliminary Advertising Organization is Formed Wednesday

J. Frank Bennett of this city was chosen yesterday to head a group of civic leaders in the Rock River Valley who will be organized as a committee the aim of which will be the advertisement of the scenic charms of the Rock River region.

Yesterday's meeting, which was held in Grand Detour at historic old Colonial Inn, was sponsored by the Chicago Motor Club and J. E. Bulger, Director of Public Relations for the motor club was host at the luncheon at the Inn. The Dixon delegation included J. Frank Bennett, Attorney Harry Warner, Attorney Gerald Jones and George Shaw.

Mr. Bulger pointed out the great advantages to be gained by the Rock River region in promoting the valley as a summer resort and vacationists mecca and the general sentiment of the meeting was that in all the Middle West there is no region that can offer more beautiful scenery or greater historic interest than can the Rock River Valley.

A committee of public spirited citizens of the valley will be named soon and this committee will have the cooperation of state authorities in acquainting the rest of Illinois with the interesting features of this territory.

Stranger Tried to Force Entrance to Ashton Residence

A tall thin man, wearing light trousers, attempted to force an entrance to the Jacob Leuzinger home in Ashton last evening about 8:45 while a band concert was in progress in the business district. Mrs. Leuzinger was alone in the house and was reading when she heard a noise on the front porch and upon investigation, saw a man peering through the window.

At about this time one of her sons came home and he was frightened when the intruder ran off the porch and around the house. Hurrying into the house to learn of the stranger's presence, the son accompanied his mother to the kitchen to lock the doors. Arriving, they found the man standing in one of the doorways, his foot blocking their efforts to close and lock the door. Frightened by his actions, Mrs. Leuzinger and son ran to the home of a neighbor, where they telephoned to Sheriff Ward Miller who made a hurried trip to the Ashton residence, accompanied by deputies. Upon their arrival the bold stranger had departed. An investigation was conducted but no arrests have been made.

Young Missourian is Freed of Suspicion

Nevada, Mo., June 27—(AP)— A 17-year-old Nevada high school boy, held for questioning in connection with the disappearance of four Illinois tourists in New Mexico, has been ordered released after New Mexico state police failed to identify him as being the hitchhiker sought in the case.

The boy, who had been hitchhiking in New Mexico last March, contended that he returned home more than two months before the missing tourists disappeared. He was supported by his parents. Two New Mexico officers questioned the boy at the sheriff's office this morning and exonerated him.

May Reorganize

New York, June 27—(AP)— The Chicago & North Western Railway Co. announced today that the directors had decided to file a petition to reorganize under section 17 of the federal bankruptcy law.

The announcement explained that negotiations with the bondholders committee, which were inaugurated some weeks ago in the hope of reaching an agreement on a plan of voluntary readjustment of the capital structure, would be continued.

The road hopes that a plan of reorganization may be accomplished within the next 90 days. The filing of the petition in the meantime, officers said, will inaugurate jurisdictional steps looking to the assistance.

WOMAN CLINGS TO FINAL HOPE

Mrs. Eva Coo Believes New York Governor Will Save Life

Ossining, N. Y., June 27—(AP)— Eva Coo, doomed to die in the electric chair tonight, clung desperately today to hope of an eleventh-hour reprieve from Gov. Herbert Lehman.

Men who have studied the legal currents which carry convicted killers through the death house believe she was grasping a straw.

Also hoping against hope for a reprieve was Leonard Scarniel. He too is under sentence to die tonight.

Mrs. Coo was convicted of the insurance slaying of Harry Wright a handy man at her road house, near Cooperstown. Scarniel's conviction was for the holdup killing of a Rensselaer detective.

"The worry and dreadful suspense are almost unbearable," the 43-year-old woman was quoted as saying. "I can't fall asleep until nearly daybreak and then I get up with a horrible headache."

"The only thing that heartens me is that Governor Lehman is going over the papers and still considering my request for a commutation. I still believe he will do something for me."

Prison officials did not tell her that the governor customarily makes no announcement when he rejects a plea.

The state charged that Mrs. Coo, after applying for a dozen insurance policies on Wright, struck him with a mallet and then had Mrs. Martha Clift drive an automobile back and forth over the body. That was last June. Mrs. Clift testified against her chum and was sent to prison for 20 years.

Dixon Man Suffered Loss of Memory and Wandered to Clinton

Harry Richie, local automobile salesman who was reported to have disappeared Monday and for whom the sheriff's force was requested to conduct a search, returned home late yesterday afternoon. Friends stated that Richie had suffered a lapse of memory and recovered yesterday in Clinton, Iowa, not knowing how he reached that city. He returned to his home in Dixon last evening.

Block License Cut

Springfield, Ill., June 27—(AP)— Downstate Senators today blocked passage of the amended bill providing a 25 per cent average reduction in automobile license fees. They objected that the state would not have enough revenue to complete extension of the highway system in rural districts. Needing three more votes, the bill was kept alive by suspending the roll call.

Father, 52, and Son, 21, Died on Same Gallows in Rain Storm This Morning for Murder of Policeman

St. Thomas, Ont., June 27—(AP)— A father and his son, shielded from the rain by tarpaulins and guarded from the glances of the curious by a line of policemen, died on the gallows behind the walls of Elgin county jail today for the murder of a policeman.

Rather than have the younger face a year-old bicycle theft charge, Frank, 52, and his son, Fred Temple, 21, alias MacTemple, killed a policeman May 7, 1934.

The crown pronounced the case closed today with the fulfillment of a jury's finding and a judge's denunciation.

They were hanged by the neck until dead.

The father paid the penalty first, dropping through the hole in the wooden scaffold in the women's yard of the St. Thomas jail at 12:08 A. M. (Central Standard time). He was pronounced dead ten minutes later.

Fred mounted the steps to the seven-foot high platform on which official witnesses crowded in the glare of an electric light at 12:30. Thirteen minutes later he was pronounced dead.

National Lottery to Take Billion Yearly for Government Proposed by New Jersey Congressman Today

Washington, June 27 —(AP)— Rep. Kenny (D. N.J.) will seek a vote this session on his plan to establish a national lottery and "take a billion dollars a year away from racketeers and gamblers."

He said today a house ways and means subcommittee would begin hearings Friday. The lottery would be patterned after Cuban lotteries with prizes offered monthly or even yearly.

Despite the fact that he was unsuccessful last year, Kenney expressed confidence that the committee would approve the legislation and report it to the house floor for a vote.

EXTENSION OF
IERC VOTED IN ILLINOIS HOUSE

Democrats Have Easy Time Passing Bill this Afternoon

Springfield, Ill., June 27—(AP)—The House of Representatives today voted to keep the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission in charge of unemployment activities until 1937.

Democrats had no difficulty in getting the constitutional majority of 77 votes needed to send to Governor Horner his bill to extend from August 1 to March 1, 1937, the life of the IERC.

The companion bill appropriating $45,000,000 to the relief commission from the three per cent sales and utility tax revenues was then passed, 135 to 0, without debate. It also went to the governor for approval. The funds cannot be spent at a rate of more than $3,000,000 a month, with the balance to be paid by the federal government.

Final action was thus taken on the Horner administration relief program.

No debate preceded the roll call, during which several Republicans renewed their criticism of the relief commission. It was called "the greatest gang of thieves in the state" by Richard J. Lyons, Libertyville Republican. While he spoke, a Democratic member called across the aisle:

"You are making yourself ridiculous."

"No one," Lyons shouted, "makes himself ridiculous voting against perpetuation of this gang of thieves."

Reading from a prepared statement, he charged numerous cases of corruption in the placing of orders by the IERC.

Alleged Confession of Slayer Admitted

Kankakee, Ill., June 27—(AP)—The state won a point today in the trial for murder of Harry Roley, 31 of Decatur, when Circuit Judge C. N. Saum ruled admissible Roley's alleged confession that he took part in a hold up which resulted in the slaying of Joseph Gliatta, a drug company employee.

The defense sought to bar the confession, allegedly made to Kankakee police last February.

Another skirmish went to the state when Sheriff Elmer Swearingen of Bloomington was permitted to testify about the capture of Roley in a rooming house raid last January in which A. S. Vonsar, Bloomington deputy sheriff, was fatally shot.

Gliatta was killed Dec. 22, 1934 when two gunmen held up the store of which he was in charge.

NEW "GATEWAY" AMENDMENT IS BEING PLANNED

Horner Administration Abandons Any Change in 1936

Springfield, Ill., June 27—(AP)—The Horner administration apparently has abandoned any intention of trying to amend the revenue article of the Illinois constitution at the 1936 general election.

Instead, the house of representatives today was asked to approve a senate joint resolution for another "gateway" amendment proposal, under which two constitutional changes could be voted up on every two years.

Senator James C. Mayor, La Harpe Democrat, said he introduced the two-amendment resolution at the request of Governor Horner. It was adopted by the senate, 34 to 8, late yesterday.

In 1932, a "gateway" amendment to submit three propositions at a time was defeated. Last year an constitutional convention proposal was turned down in the only referendum.

Since only one amendment can be submitted at a time under the present constitution, the administration apparently does not intend to make another effort to remove some of the restrictions from the revenue article, which limits types of taxes and forbids classifications and exemptions.

In adopting the Mayor resolution, the senate turned down two proposed changes for the revenue article. They would have provided for the exemption of homesteads and the one per cent property tax limit.

HOUSE, SENATE CONFEREES AGREE ON PROCEDURE TODAY

Washington, June 27—(AP)—In speedy fashion, congressional action was completed today on a resolution extending for two years from next Sunday a list of nuisance taxes yielding $500,000,000 annual revenue. The house approved a conference report and sent the measure to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature.

As they reached that agreement, legislative drafting clerks were put to work by the House Ways and Means committee on President Roosevelt's new wealth distribution taxes with Chairman Doughton asserting hearings probably would begin Tuesday.

He said, however, he had not yet agreed with the rates suggested earlier this week by Chairman Harrison of the Senate finance committee, estimated to raise $340,000,000 annually.

They would impose levies on inheritances, gifts, incomes above $1,000,000 a year and graduated taxes on corporations.

The Senate nuisance tax extension resolution will be put through by Saturday, Democratic leaders asserted, predicting that both House and Senate would accept it without difficulty.

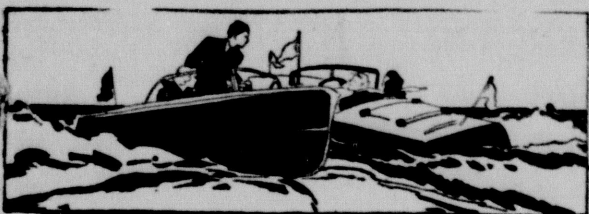

As originally passed by the House it would have extended the expiring taxes two years from July 1. The Senate reduced that to one year.

The taxes affected include the 1-cent a gallon Federal levy on gasoline and 3-cent first class letter postage.

NOT SO BAD
(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)
"H. EY, there! Wait a minute! Not so fast, please!" writes a jolly and wise reader. "Too much soft-soap of sympathy is being dished out to the shut-ins, shut-outs and other handicapped howlers."

"It is time someone filed a protest, and I am the one to do it. I am and have been a deaf-mute since I was eighteen months old, and I am now close to seventy. But no sympathy, thank you!"

"After all, deafness is not so bad. Just think of all the things you do not have to listen to—cats, concerts, radio crooners, spell-binders, honking auto horns, dull sermons, and the rest of the racket! How convenient, too, when a bum is asking for a hand-out!"

"Nine-tenths of human talk is just twaddle—prattling nonsense, empty chatter, and not worth bothering about. Mark Twain thought he was lucky if he heard a long speech that had an idea in it!"

"Believe it or not, deafness has advantages—we ought not to be pitied but envied. Did you not say that good makes no noise and noise does no good? It is fine to be out of the din."

"Nor is dumbness to be deprecated—all of us say a lot of things we wish we had not said and could unsay. If people thought more and talked less the world would be a better place to live in."

"Honestly, I am sure that you and other non-deaf folk wish at times that you were deaf temporarily, if not permanently, if only because you would like to be quiet and let alone entirely. Eh?"

"But, seriously, I enjoy deafness very keenly, and would not for the whole world exchange places with you, or with anyone else with all their senses. As it is, I live quietly and peacefully."

What a wise and lovely letter; it makes me want to know the writer, and sit with him in silence for a spell, letting the noisy world wag. But he is a busy man doing a good work betimes.

To have sense enough and humor enough to take what people call a handicap and turn it into a help is a fine feat of living.

Summer Complicates Care of Dry Skins

NEA Service Staff Writer

By ALICIA HART

"The first thing for a woman with dry skin to remember is that she must give her complexion plenty of light lubrication," says Dolores Del Rio, beautiful brunette screen star. And Dolores ought to know. She's dark, her skin is dry, yet she has managed to keep it soft and lovely.

"A woman with my type of skin must be careful not to over-burden it with thick creams and lotions," Miss Del Rio continues. "It needs creams or oils to counteract drying effects of sun and wind, of course, but if these are heavy and impossible to remove completely, blackheads and other clogged pores blemishes are sure to follow.

"In my own case I have found the following routines to be most successful:

"In the morning, I cleanse my face and throat with a good but very light cleansing cream. Then I pat on a mild astringent apply a foundation cream and makeup. I put on the foundation while my skin still is moist with astringent, using it sparingly and blending it thoroughly before application of rouge.

"Even more important than my morning ritual is my evening beauty routine. No matter how tired I am, I always clean my face before I go to bed. First, I wash with bland soap and plain water, using a heavy lather between my palms. Then I rinse and rinse and rinse, first with warm water and then with cold. Naturally, by the time I have finished, by face and throat feel drawn and dry.

"To alleviate the dryness and to make my complexion smooth, I next apply plain mineral oil, allowing it to stay on while I bathe and brush my teeth. Afterward, I remove the oil and rinse again with cold water, dry carefully and pat on my mild astringent."

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

SHINE ON CLOTHES MAY BE REMOVED BY SIMPLE MEANS

To get rid of that shine in garments, sponge with water to which a dash of ammonia has been added—about one teaspoonful to a quart of water. Then press on the reverse side.

If you will cover silver that you are putting away with dry flour it will keep it from tarnishing.

Lemon and salt blended will do a good deal toward removing rust from something that has been pressed with too hot an iron. Hold the garment over steam after you have applied the lemon and salt cure.

When curtains, spreads, and such have become so soiled you wonder how you're ever going to wash them, soak in cold water overnight and add a touch of borax. The dirt will come out easily when you wash the following day.

TO PREVENT FADING

Here is the way to protect your colored clothes from running when in the washing tub. Put a handful of salt in a good-sized bowl of cold water. Let your garment soak in this for half an hour. After this wash with warm water (not too hot) and soap suds. If you see a little color coming out rinse in cold water and salt.

SUMMER HINTS

If you live where there is a great deal of dampness, near the seashore or where there are early morning and evening fogs and mists, and you have trouble with your open salt cellars, keep them covered with glass when not in use.

You'll probably be washing your hair more often during the summer, and if there is a slight wave to your hair you will protect it by parting the hair while wet, setting it the way your wave goes and covering your head with a damp heavy bath towel for a little while. Then dry in the sun.

If you have bought yourself a lovely new bathing suit this season you will want to protect it. Always wash it out in fresh water after you have been in the salt water. It gives the suit longer life and makes it dry much more quickly.

A Tasty Touch

Currants and raspberries mixed make a nice top for ice cream, looking pretty and tasting well.

SUMMER LOVE

Clever Aids for Beauty Questor

By ALICIA HART

NEA Service Staff Writer

A cream that cleanses, nourishes and shrinks enlarged pores, a splendid pick-me-up ice for tired feet, a lipstick with a tiny mirror of its own—these star among the new preparations and improved old ones brought to the attention of beauty-minded women this week.

The new lipstick, put up in all shades, of course, comes in an oblong case. When you push upward on a tiny button, the top slides off and a narrow, chromium mirror flaps outward from the side, jack-knife fashion. Holding the top and attaching mirror in one hand, put on lipstick with the other. This is sure to please any girl who is weary of fumbling in her purse for a mirror each time she has to freshen up makeup on her lips.

The combination cream is a time-saver indeed. In addition, it puts no strain on the budget. Pale yellowish in color and smelling slightly medicated, this is to be smothered on after you have washed the face and neck with soap and water, left on for several minutes and then wiped off with soft tissues. If you pavements, and will keep the skin on your feet smooth and lovely.

THE WAY GOVERNMENT DOES THINGS
Reports from Alaska, where the federal government is undertaking to set up a group of colonists on America's
"last frontier," indicate that all is not well in the colony.
Colonists are grumbling and some of them are threatening to desert, annoyed by the government's reverse way
of doing things.

There is a great deal of misunderstanding about the whole colonization scheme. Reports have been made that the scheme is impractical; that Alaska is not habitable for persons who desire to live a normal life; that the government agents who are directing the enterprise
have led the pioneers into a frozen wilderness to starve
and freeze.

In contrast with these gloomy forebodings we have
for years seen government pamphlets and bulletins stating that the more favorable regions of Alaska are habitable for those who can adapt themselves to the climate,
and describing how a living can be earned there by the energetic.

The particular complaint of the modern Alaska pioneers is that they have only a few months in which to get their houses constructed and their land cleared before they must stop, owing to the winter season. The government has been supplying too many things they will need later, but can not use now. Things in great demand now seem to have been reserved for later arrival.

An instance: The region involved seems to be favorable for onion culture. The federal agents visualized an onion cooperative. Hence, an onion grading machine has arrived. But the land is covered with trees which must be cleared away before the onions can be planted, and there are no axes to use in the work. One would suppose that in normal planning for an onion cooperative enterprise, axes would come before an onion grader, but that is the way government does things—especially if the dealer in onion graders was a heavy contributor to the campaign fund.

Those who read General Pershing's World war
memoirs may remember that the general voiced the same complaint. On one occasion the general prepared a spicy cablegram, which he dispatched to Washington, urging that the government send over less of the things not needed, and more of the sinews of war. He objected particularly to the receipt of window blinds, office safes
and other swivel chair equipment. For a time he harbored the impression that the bureaucrats were merely loading ships with anything they could buy, regardless of its military value.

General headquarters in France, however, had the advantage over the colonists in one respect. They were able to borrow, rent or buy airplanes, artillery, mules, tanks and other material. The Alaska colonists seem to have bought Alaska's total supply of certain equipment,
with not enough to go around.

Whether it has any bearing on the present situation
or not, there is an amusing story of the American government's lack of information concerning Alaska. The postmaster at Dawson once received a message from the United States postmaster general stating that the incumbent never had received a report on postal business
at Dawson, and suggesting that the Dawson postmaster had better comply with the rules or make way for a more efficient executive. The fact is, as the Dawson postmaster explained, that Dawson lies in British territory just across the Alaska line.

ZEPPELINS FLY ON
A cable from Amsterdam announces that Zeppelins
soon may replace steamships as the principal means of communication between Holland and the Dutch East Indies.

The chief steamship line, it seems, has been running at a substantial loss. Dirigibles, the steamship directors feel, could cover the distance between Amsterdam and Java in far less time and could convert this loss into profit.

Plans are said to be under way for buying a fleet of them from the Zeppelin people to be placed in regular service under Dutch control.

All this has a strange sound to an American public disillusioned by the loss of the Akron and the Macon.
But the Dutch are reported to feel that the Germans know just enough more than we do about building giant airships to make them safe and reliable.

Are we, after all, being just a little hasty in giving up on these huge sky liners?

A LONE MAN AND HIS IDEA
The things that one man can accomplish depend on the man himself, not on the job he holds or the spot he occupies.

There died in Arizona the other day a man named Anson Hubert Smith, who had spent 53 years as editor of a small-town newspaper in the far southwest. Such a man would not be expected to exert any influence on national affairs; yet no less a man than Herbert Hoover
once called Smith "the father of Boulder Dam."

Many years ago, Smith saw the tremendous possibilities of harnessing the waters of the Colorado river.
He began to agitate for it. He talked it up in season and out of season. He saw his idea take hold of other men's minds—and at last, before he died, he saw it take actual shape in the form of one of the world's greatest engineering works.

Not a bad record, for the editor of a remote, isolated, unheard-of small-town paper!

Many a man feels like kicking himself who wouldn't let anyone else do it.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Text: Romans 14:13-21; 1 Cor.
8:9-13.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 30.

(By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.)
(Editor of Advance.)

The theme "Liberty Under Law"
with the lesson text in passages from Romans and I Corinthians, is associated with a temperance lesson.

We have had full occasion during recent years to consider both liberty and law in relation to temperance and intemperance, when the government failed to suppress a great evil through the power of the state under a constitutional amendment establishing prohibition.

Many feel that the abuses of liberty that have followed prohibition repeal may again bring the nation back to prohibition when sanity has returned.

These matters enter only indirectly into the lesson, but it is impossible to avoid them in any honest consideration of liberty under law as it relates to the liquor habit and liquor traffic.

Undoubtedly one of the major factors in the repeal of prohibition
was the belief that the law interfered with liberty. In one sense
this was true, but those who made that plea failed to recognize or emphasize the extent to which practically all law is an interference with liberty.

There is hardly a law on the statute books that does not forbid
the doing of something that somebody wants to do. Even a law against murder does not prevent
men from committing murder.
There are those who would like to have the liberty to steal in spite of the law against theft. Nor is this true only concerning things inherently criminal. In ranges of conduct where no moral issue is involved, there are laws strongly upheld by social and public opinion
that forbid things which whole
groups of citizens desire to do;
things which they do, where they can conceal their conduct, in spite of the law.

It is to be said then that the interference of law with liberty makes laws undesirable? On the contrary, we have come today to widely recognize the principle asserted by Paul that law and liberty
are inherently related.

The purpose of restraining somebody by law is that other men may have their just liberties and rights,
and that all men in the community
may be put upon a higher basis of welfare through protection against the anti-social acts of individuals or groups seeking liberty only for themselves.

Here in our lesson, however,
there is the assertion of a higher
law—a law in the soul of man himself through which, in regard to his fellow men, he regulates his own life without the need of drastic state laws to compel him.

Under this law of the spirit Paul

Many Children Accident Victims

Out of the total of 36,000 persons killed last year in automobile accidents in this country, nearly 1,500
of the victims were under five years of age and around 3,800 others who met death were between the ages of five and fourteen, according to figures on the results of automobile accidents compiled by the Travelers
Insurance Company.

Nearly 80 per cent of all the children killed under the age of five
were on the streets as pedestrians,
the total of such casualties amounting to almost 1,200. Slightly more than 75 per cent of the children between the ages of five and fourteen
who were killed, or almost 2,900,
were also on the streets as pedestrians.

Although many children are killed
because of playing in streets, the records for last year show that out of a total of approximately 5,300 child deaths there were only 1,800 that resulted from playing in the streets.

More than 39,000 children under the age of five were injured non-fatally in automobile accidents last year, and 143,000 between the ages
of five and fourteen were also hurt.
Around 25,000, or 64 per cent of the child victims under the age of five,
were injured while on the streets as pedestrians, and 93,000, or 65 per cent of the children between the ages of five and fourteen also injured, may be classed as pedestrians.

Altogether the automobile casualty record last year in this country included the deaths of 5,290 children under the age of fifteen and the injury of 182,210. While children should be taught to take care of themselves, the large number of child victims of automobile accidents does not speak any too well
of the manner in which many persons drive their cars. "Drive Carefully, We Love Our Children" is a safety message which ought to be always uppermost in the minds of all motorists.

POET'S CORNER

THE OLD HORSE DOCTOR

A jolly old fellow is passing away,
Who worked many times thru
the night and the day;
Would drive on his mission of
mercy around,
Wherever the farms or the farmers were found.

If horses were sick, or the cattle
and sheep,
Or hogs needed treatment for profit to keep,
The faithful horse doctor was summoned so sure—
To see if he could not effect a real cure.

And hundreds of maladies he had
to meet,
From eye and ear trouble clear
down to the feet;
But seldom, if ever, the task was so great
He had to leave all for the ven-
dix of fate.

The problems of animals all were
his own.
To him every habit and nature
was known.
He knew what was right and he did it so well—
The animal folks and the farmers could tell.

The weather—regardless of what it
foretold—
He'd never say in for the storm
or the cold.
His medicine case he would thrust
in his rig,
And drive to a cow, or a horse, or
a pig.

His services, all beneficial and blest
Were given with zeal, and a chuckle and jest;
Still every endeavor he used was sincere
In that great profession which scattered its cheer.

But, now he is passing so swiftly
away,
As new modern methods are here
to stay;
Yet no one can ever forget the old
man,
Who peddled relief to the quad-
ruped clan.

ADMINISTRATION DROPS PLANS TO SPEED NEW TAX

Everyone in Power Now Says There Never Was
Plan to Hurry Bill

Washington, June 27—(AP)—Discarding all efforts for high speed action on President Roosevelt's tax-the-wealth program, Democratic leaders today outlined a schedule calling for weeks of hearing and debate.

Legislators said that the House would not reach a show-down vote on the President's plan until the last week in July, at the earliest, and that the Senate would act perhaps three to six weeks later.

These plans emerged from a tangled situation which found Roosevelt disavowing any intention of seeking to push the taxes through Congress by Saturday night. He said emphatically yesterday that while he desired action this session, he had never considered a plan of attaching the taxes to a pending $500,000,000 "nuisance" tax resolution and getting them through by the week-end.

In Separate Bill

Democratic leaders said today that, instead of attaching the new levies on inheritances, gifts, corporations and large incomes, to the "nuisance taxes," the President's program would be made into a separate bill and put through the regular course. Early next week, the House Ways and Means committee will start hearings. Chairman Doughton (D-N. C.) said the hearings would last "two or three weeks."

Earlier in the week, Senator Robinson (D-Ark.), Democratic leader, had announced a plan to attach the amendments to the nuisance levies, and Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) also said such action would be sought.

The widespread impression was that the New Deal was aiming at passage by Saturday night since the "nuisance" bill embodies taxes which expire June 30 unless extended. This impression gave rise to criticism by some Republicans and Democrats, who demanded less haste.

Republicans Ironical

Republicans commented ironically yesterday as Democratic leaders said there would be no haste. Rising in the Senate, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) asked if the leadership still had in mind the Saturday night goal.

"Nobody has ever suggested that we should pass it by Saturday night," replied Senator Barkley (D-Ky.).

"The newspapers were all in error, then," Vandenberg said, smiling. On Capitol Hill, Democratic legislators held that the original plans—which they said had not called for passage by Saturday—had gone awry because of the stand taken by the House Ways and Means committee.

Stand on House Rights

The idea of some leaders, they said, had been to offer in the Senate a proposal to tack the wealth levies on a resolution extending the "nuisance" taxes for two years. This resolution had already passed

Des Moines, Ia., June 27—(AP)—Leland Hamman, the little fellow from Paris, Texas, opened his bid for a second straight Trans-Mississippi golf title today against deliberate Bob McCrary of Des Moines, in a first round 18-hole match.

The defending champion, who did not have to participate in the 36-hole qualification play in which Denmark Miller of Des Moines won the medal with 147, faced a formidable foe in the Des Moines Scot, McCrary, a former Trans winner, shot 155 in the qualifying rounds and has been down close to Wakonda's exacting par 73 in all his practice rounds.

Fight on His Hands

Miller, a slow, steady player, also had a fight on his hands to get by for the first round match play. Billy Cordingly, an 18-year-old Des Moines lad, was the medalist's opponent. Cordingly upset Miller for the city championship last year.

Another feature match involving Johnny Goodman of Omaha, former National Open champion, and Pat Sawyer of Minneapolis, Johnny had a 76 and a 77 for his qualification rounds while Sawyer took an 80 the first day but cut off three strokes his second time out. Gus Moreland of Peoria, who tied with Rodney Bliss of Omaha at 148 for second place in the medalist, race, met Jimmie Miller, younger brother of Denmark.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

BRETHREN CHURCH

Sunday being Independence Sunday the Brethren church has planned a patriotic service to be given Sunday evening at 7:30. A program of readings, singing, patriotic hymns illustrated, short talks and a sermon by the pastor will make up the program. Perhaps the leading feature of the service will be conducted under the direction of Mrs. H. F. Ware, president of the Women's Relief Corps in the presenting of an American Flag to the church. It is believed by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Thompson, that we are sadly in need of the old-time true patriotism, based on honesty, justice and righteousness, and that such a patriotism would do away with much political greed, graft and ungodly gain and place us on the way to prosperity, goodness and restore confidence, trust and goodwill. The entire service will be sacred, inspiring and uplifting, and will be enjoyed by all who attend. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come and enjoy this splendid service.

Washington, June 27—(AP)—Fielding H. Yost, famed athletic director of the University of Michigan, is disgusted.

His crack Wolverine team landed two players in today's quarter-finals of the national intercollegiate golf championships, only to have them matched against each other by the luck of the draw.

Woodrow Malloy, the only medalist to survive yesterday's "sudden death" match play, faced his own teammate, Johnny Fisher, 1932 intercollegiate champion, in the 36-hole test.

The University of Texas also had two quarter finalists but they were at opposite ends of the bracket. Ed White, a finalist last year, was matched with H. E. Menard of Penn State, while Bill Welch, a freckle-faced sophomore who never played in a major tournament before, met Fred Haas of Louisiana State, a former southern champion.

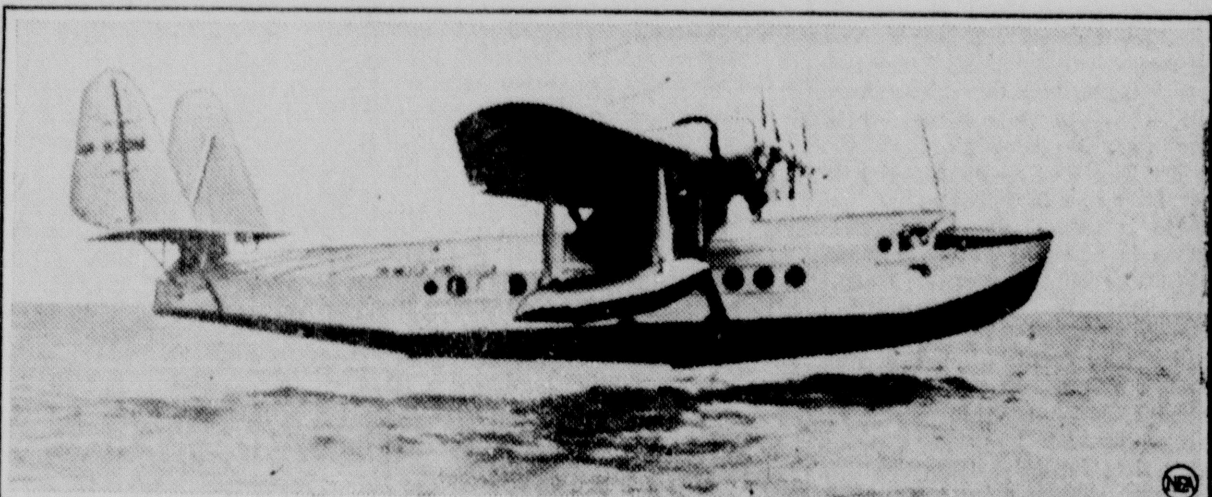

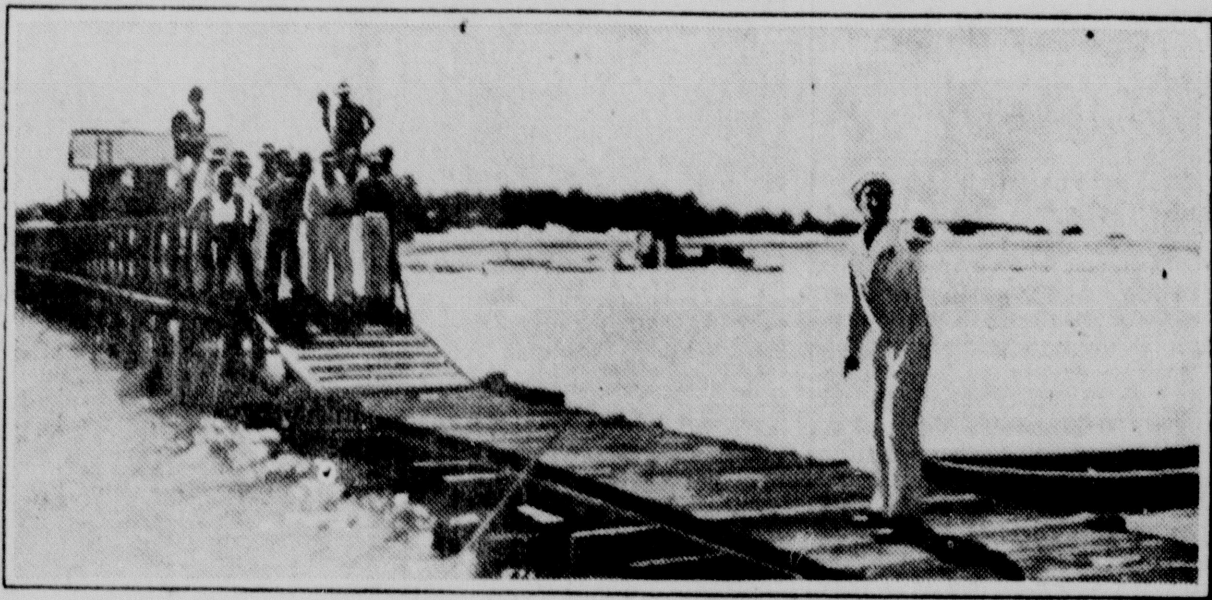

Welch hoped he could reach the finals and get a crack at Jack Malloy of Princeton, whose opponent today was Charlie Yates of Georgia Tech, the defending champion. They lived next door to each other in Tulsa, Oklahoma, until 14 years ago when Welch's parents moved to Mercedes, Texas.

with Concrete . . .

THIS may be a pleasant surprise, but the cold figures show that concrete is the economical "buy" for farm-to-market roads as well as main state roads.

First cost is less than for state road pavements. In many cases a pavement only 9 or 10 feet in width will serve traffic adequately and safely—permitting a still further saving.

Your investment is spread out over decades of all-year service—and in the meantime low maintenance saves thousands of dollars a mile!

Taxpayers prefer concrete because it is comfortable, safe and saving in gas, oil, tires and car repair.

DAILY HEALTH

A MIND THAT FOUND ITSELF

It is not given to many a man to find a movement of international importance, but such distinction fell to the lot of Clifford Whittingham Beers, the first Secretary of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, and its founder in spirit and in fact.

The story of his life, to be appreciated, must be read in his autobiography, "A Mind That Found Itself." In substance we have here the story of a man who, for a variety of reasons, suffered a mental breakdown which necessitated confining him in an institution for the insane.

His experiences during the period of his insanity he describes in his autobiography with remarkable clarity. But best of all were his appreciations of the problem of the insane and the necessity for radical reforms in the method of dealing with them.

Prof. William James of Harvard University, one of the most eminent American psychologists, read Mr. Beers' story in manuscript form. In a letter to the author he adjudged the work as "irreproachable in style, in temper and in good taste. As for contents, it is fit to remain in literature as a classic account 'from within' of an insane person's psychology."

"You have handled a difficult theme with great skill, and produced a narrative of absorbing interest to scientist as well as layman. It reads like fiction, but it is not fiction."

It is 25 years since this work was composed. Much progress has been made in the field of mental hygiene. Numerous reforms have been instituted in the care and handling of the insane. Nevertheless, there is much more that needs to be done and to achieve this, an intelligent public support is necessary.

FRENCH EXPECT ATONEMENT FOR BRITISH PACTS

Laval Demands Britain Use Influence With Dictator Hitler

Paris, June 27.—(AP)—Official French sources said today France expects Great Britain, as "atonement" for making a separate Anglo-German naval deal, to put pressure on Germany for a reduction of the Reich's army.

Premier Laval, according to these sources, told Captain Anthony Eden of Great Britain frankly this morning that France wants Great Britain's help in seeking to induce Reichsfuehrer Hitler to cut his proposed army well below the 550,000 troops announced.

When Laval and Eden resumed their conversations, interrupted for a few days while the British diplomat talked with Premier Mussolini in Rome, their policies still were wide apart.

Although Laval had demanded, before Eden went to Rome, that the British Cabinet declare England hereafter would negotiate only in a collective peace system, Eden failed to produce such a declaration for the French premier.

Gets Cool Reception
Great Britain's special negotiator faced a cool reception since Laval declared himself "more than ever" decided that France must depend on multi-lateral pacts, with the League of Nations as a peace framework.

The French were represented as being convinced that England has turned away from the Anglo-Italian-French united front, erected at the Stresa conference, by her separate naval treaty with Germany.

They asserted that Mussolini was not dissatisfied with England's naval move because it took the French fleet into the Atlantic and left the Italians with added prestige in the Mediterranean.

Captain Eden was believed to be bringing the British cabinet's reply to French insistence on a united front, based on the French attitude, but observers expected the second meeting of Eden and Laval to result in little more than a very vague "agreement on principles."

Before Eden arrived, Laval conferred with the Soviet ambassador. The premier, in a previous note to England, had raised the possibility of Russia also rebuilding her navy, like Germany.

The Illinois Legion rehabilitation committee has been advised that the federal board of hospitalization will hold a southern Illinois hearing soon.

'FASTEST LAND PLANE', WILL ATTACK SPEED MARKS

Called "the world's fastest land plane" by its designers, this odd barrel-shaped craft, piloted by Cecil A. Allen, right, transpacific flyer, will soon take off from Los Angeles municipal airport for an assault on all land speed records. The Gee Bee No. 7, as this short, blunt-nosed plane is known, has reportedly been flown 321 miles an hour in tests with and against the wind. Allen hopes to achieve 350 miles an hour without attempting to climb into the rarefied stratosphere, and to span the United States in nine hours. Designed by Z. B. Granville, the ship has a high speed cruising range of 1000 miles, carrying 250 gallons of gasoline. It has been undergoing secret tests near Los Angeles.

He Shaved

Savanna, Ill.—This early American engine of punishment was brought into play here recently when a member of a local organization, all of whom are pledged to grow beards, was found in a barber shop.

The member, John Demico, had just been shaved. He was taken from the barber shop and placed in the stocks.

The organization of bearded men, known as the Savanna Whiskers club, has more than 100 members. All have agreed to grow beards until July 5.

The club, wearing white sun helmets and carrying canes will march in a parade which will be one of the features of the Soldiers' and Sailors' reunion to be held in Savanna July 3 and 4. Bands, drum and bugle corps, fireworks, and boat racing on the Mississippi river and other water sports will be among the attractions.

New York was asked to carry on the University of Chicago investigation in a telegram from Baker whose bill for a legislative commission was killed by the senate.

The four senators who signed the majority report—Chairman Richey, V. Graham of Cicero, W. H. Hickman of Paris and John W. Fribley of Pana, Democrats, and James J. Barbour, Evanston Republican—also turned in three supplementary statements. All were to be acted upon by the upper house today.

Police Asked to Search for Missing Minister

Chicago, June 27.—(AP)—Police and friends today searched for the Rev. George Schwartz, 71, retired minister of the Englewood Evangelical church who disappeared a week ago.

The clergyman for 27 years secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Conference of Evangelical churches, vanished after leaving the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arnold Weinman, saying he intended to visit friends.

Pointing out that the Rev. Schwartz was subject to sinking and dizzy spells, Mrs. Weinman said she feared her father may be suffering from amnesia.

Put Blame on Professors
They found that one professor, Robert Morris Lovett, has "pursued an unpatriotic course" for several years. Another was condemned for "negligence" in permitting his name to be used in connection with a radical publication.

But the only recommendation in the majority report was that the state's attorney should be notified if there have been violations of the treason code in the teaching of governmental overthrow.

Mrs. Waley Anxious to Defend Herself

Olympia, Wash., June 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Thulin Waley, who tried three times to plead guilty in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case was described today by her attorney as eager to take the witness stand in her defense when called to trial July 5.

At the same time the attorney, John P. Dore, made public the 19-year-old girl's own story of the kidnaping. He quoted her as saying she never saw the nine-year-old kidnap victim while he was being held for a $200,000 ransom by her husband, Harmon M. Waley and William Dainard, alias Mahan. Waley pleaded guilty and is now serving a 45 year sentence in the McNeil Island prison. Mahan still is at large.

HITLER CLAMPS DOWN SEVERELY ON GERMAN LIFE

Drastic Dictatorial Orders Become Effective Throughout Country

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)

Berlin, June 27.—Dictatorial decrees went into effect today shaping anew the lives of all Germans without giving them a chance either to approve or protest.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's "rubber stamp" cabinet, meeting for the last time before the summer holidays and four days before the first anniversary of the bloody June 30, Nazi "purge" adopted the following measures:

1. Making labor camp service compulsory for 200,000 young men and 100,000 young women annually.
2. Demanding that everyone in Germany, even foreigners domiciled here, participate actively in air protection exercises.
3. Authorizing revision of the penal code "in the light of National Socialist tenets" and regulating trials.

4. Regulating official salaries.
5. Speeding up investigation of

Roosevelt's Views on U. S. Expenditures

"I accuse the present administration of being the greatest spending administration in peace times in all our history—one which has piled bureau on bureau, commission on commission, and has failed to anticipate the dire needs of reduced earning power of the people."

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, Speech at Sioux City, Ia., September 29, 1932.

preliminary sterilization "in order to prevent unsound progeny."

6. Encouraging establishment of people's gardens and homesteads.

7. Empowering Bernhard Rust, Prussian commissioner for culture and education, to deal with the church controversy.

Other lesser decrees were adopted, all but the labor service measure awaiting publication in the Official Gazette.

Not since the "blood purge" last June had Hitlerism made such a show of dictatorial powers, and it seemed agreed that the far reaching decisions would tighten even more Nazidom's hold on Germany. Only in the church measure was an element of conciliation seen.

Rumors were heard that in the autumn, when rearmament problems are expected to be ironed out,

Steamer Capsized in Canton; 140 Drowned

Honkong, June 27.—(AP)—The S. S. San Lunon, carrying 260 passengers on the Canton river, capsized near Hoiping, carrying 140 persons to death Wednesday.

Authorities attributed the tragedy to the increasing competition between highway and river transportation, resulting in radical reduction of steamer fares and the consequent overcrowding of river boats.

'All Wind' Blows 'Em Free Bread

A city-wide bakery strike spelled unpleasantness for 21 of Cleveland's major baking plants, but not for these housewives, to whom it brought free bread. A crowd of nearly 2000 stormed the doors as one strike-bound company gave away nearly $10,000 in perishable baked goods. A dispute between employers and a drivers' union caused the strike.

Nearing New Endurance Record

When Fred, left, and Al Key touch their feet to the ground again they hope to be holders of the "to-and-fro" championship of the air. Ball Game Sunday

West Brooklyn defeated Maytown at West Brooklyn in the Illinois State league Sunday by a score of 2 to 1 in 14 innings. It was a pitcher's duel with Knauer coping the honors. Every man on both teams played wonderful base ball. Knauer the first man up in the 14th inning socked the second ball pitched over the fence for a home run. Knauer was across the plate and most of the spectators left the field before the ball was recovered. Mgr. Long went out to help find the ball and found Knauer had apparently knocked the ball inside of one of the Maytown fielders shirt, that is where it was found. The attendance was getting so large that all of the cars were not able to get inside the park. Compton will play West Brooklyn here next Sunday and we expect a good game and also a good attendance. Following is the box score of the game.

Seek Silver-Painted Truck in Murder of Cattleman Tuesday

Red Bud, Ill., June 27—(AP)—A silver-painted cattle truck was being sought by police today in the murder of Paul Dollinger, Cape Girardeau, Mo., livestock dealer.

August Reseleyer, a farmer testified at an inquest that he was awakened at 3 A. M. Tuesday by a noise that might have been a shot. Looking from the window of his home, he said he saw the truck start up after it had been stopped on a bridge spanning Horse Creek.

Dollinger's body, a bullet wound in the chest, was found on the bridge a short time later.

A cattle buyer on the National Exchange in East St. Louis, Ill., Dollinger was accustomed to carry relatively large sums of money, relatives in St. Louis said.

A well-bred hen that is given expert care will lay from 250 to 300 eggs annually, according to poultry records.

MR. FARMER: BRING US YOUR EGGS

Illinois Will Have to Get Along Minus Services of Olander

Springfield, Ill., June 27—(AP)—Victor A. Olander of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Federation of Labor, has resigned from the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission and two other state agencies in protest against the legislature's defeat of labor bills.

He gave Governor Horner his resignations, effective at once, from the Illinois housing commission and the advisory council on naturalization and citizenship in addition to the relief commission.

"This action," he stated, "is in the nature of a protest against the failure of the administration and the legislature to provide remedial legislation necessary to guard against the legal effects of the 'black Wednesday' decisions of the Illinois Supreme Court, as announced on April 17.

"These decisions invalidated the occupational diseases act and the health, safety and comfort act."

KATHARINE STRYKHURST

26 and beautiful, allows her emotions to rule when she marries

MICHAEL HEATHEROE, young

reading instructor who comes into a little and fortune. Katharine's

father is rich and her stepmother

is snobbish.

Michael, hurt in a traffic accident, loses his memory and Katharine, unaware of this, thinks he has forgotten his bargain. She goes to New Mexico to forget and on a trip to the desert becomes lost. Michael, meantime, has recovered his memory and set out to find Katharine and explain.

Back home Katharine's friend,

ZOE PARKER, learns of the marriage of Katharine and Michael

when a servant shows her the certificate. DR. JOHN KAYE, in love with Katharine, unwittingly

picks up the certificate when Zoe drops it.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

XLIII

A BRASSY sun wheeled across a molten sky. Here and there were clumps of mesquite and sage brush. But there was not one single living thing in sight save the tall, slim girl in riding tights who stumbled across that dreary desert.

It seemed to Katharine she had been walking for hours. The wrist

watch strapped to her slender wrist told her it was half-past 11.

Any moment now, she told herself

gallantly, she might see the car

and the tent and the little group

of civilized human beings she had left behind. Any moment . . .

meantime she must keep on going.

To stop meant madness.

If she only had a single drink of water! Just half a glass . . .

quarter of a glass to quench the thirst that already tortured her.

She thought of the mountain

stream in which she had carelessly

bathed yesterday morning, thinking nothing of the largesse flowing over the golden rocks. She thought of mounds of sherbet, pale green,

lemon yellow served at dinner parties. She thought of ice, tinkling

in a tall glass . . .

Your head whirled, dwelling on these things. Better to think of something else.

She sang songs, lightly, until her cracked throat rebelled. She was deadly tired now but still she stumbled on, the harsh sand drifting

above the tops of her jodhpur

boots. Once she tore at the top button of her pongee shirt and released it as if better to breathe.

Frank Millard would find her, or

Dirk. They both knew this country like a book. They would laugh

at this adventure later on. Or would they? She remembered reading the story of a man and woman

lost in the desert. They had been middle-aged lovers. The man had left his heart medicine at home so

as not to appear handicapped to his bride; the woman had not worn

her spectacles for the same reason.

And so both had perished, one because of his seizure, the other because she could not see to lead

them out of their trouble.

Ah, but Katharine was young and strong! She shuddered, remembering the story. That could not happen to her. Death was something far away and unreal, not to be faced just now.

She saw a far-away speck in the sky and whirled her head in her mouth, thinking it might be a plane and that she might signal it.

But it was only a great bird—there were other birds in its wake—

wheeling and circling. Buzzards!

Horror—horror! It tore at her throat. The sense of it, closing in on her, made her shiver as with ague.

Five minutes—had it only been

five minutes since she glanced at her watch dial last? It seemed hours—years!

A saxebrush root tore at her an-

kle. She stumbled. Fell. Rising

again, she realized that she had hurt her ankle cruelly. Not a sprain, perhaps, but nearly so. She stumbled on . . .

There was no pity in the achings

sky, no living thing in all the world to pity her. Only the burning heat and silence, and far-off,

the birds wheeling and swooping.

THERE were no planes to be had

nearer than Claymore, Hilda

Hillard told Michael lifelessly.

Fifty miles back, the way they had come. Even then it was not certain. It was an emergency landing field.

"Will you come with me, so that I shan't lose the way?" Michael demanded.

Evelyn Vincent stepped forward

of course Hilda must go. It was their only chance.

Michael winced at the words.

Hilda climbed into the seat, and the motor of the shabby car spun

and roared. Michael remembered little later of that mad ride. Fifty miles over desert roads. Claymore

in the distance, and—merciful God!

—the wings of a ship visible over

the little rise.

The pilot was a tubby little man

with a mustache. Clem Wilbur

from Santa Fe, he said, introducing himself. His own ship—he made a hobby of it—but if the lady

or the gentleman wanted to go up

why, sure, he'd be glad to.

Michael, briefly explained. Clem

Wilbur whistled. Yes, he knew the region. Come along—they'd get started pronto.

Hilda got back into the car

Michael had been driving. She said she would go back to Miss Vincent.

The poor lady would be half-distracted. Hilda, as yet, wouldn't let herself think of Dirk—or Frank either. Of course they were old hands at this desert business. And yet—you never knew!

By the time she'd got the motor

running, Clem Wilbur had taxied

to the end of the field. The little ship rose surely. Hilda brushed her hands across her eyes. Or course the whole thing was a nightmare . . .

THE ship made a steady course

southward. Michael's heart was hammering against his ribs.

This man Wilbur was a clever pilot. He banked and swerved dipping low, and Michael strained his eyes until they ached. Once he saw something white fluttering and his heart leaped, but coming closer

—dangerously close—to earth they saw it was only a woman's torn scarf, caught on a jagged root.

The little ship circled and swooped.

"She's here—some place,"

Michael said. "We can't help but find her."

"Oh, sure, certainly," the fat man

said politely. But he was not so

Oil Wells 'Go to Town,' Menace City's Skyline

With a complete "right of way," won in a recent election, oil wells are invading the downtown section of Oklahoma City, creating a new type of civic skyline. In this unusual picture, several of the city's finest buildings, endangered by the feverish hunt for "liquid gold," overlook the encroaching web-like structures which menace their existence.

Cue Champ Again

Just a habit with Johnny Layton is winning the world's three-cushion billiard title. The 46-year-old cue wizard from Sedalia, Mo., shown here, annexed the crown for the twelfth time when he overcame the early lead of Allen Hall of Chicago and coasted to a 300-259 victory in their championship match in Omaha, Neb.
